Introduction:

The method for assessment, measurement and evaluation for POs, PSOs & COs:

At Arts, Science, and Commerce Harsul, the assessment, measurement, and evaluation of Program Outcomes (POs), Program Specific Outcomes (PSOs), and Course Outcomes (COs) are conducted through a combination of direct and indirect methods

Direct assessments follow Bloom's Taxonomy and are mapped from the beginning of the assessment process. Internal and external examinations are used to evaluate student achievements. The internal assessment is continuous and employs various methodologies such as written tests, multiple-choice tests (MCQs), quizzes, assignments, seminars, and viva-voce. Marking schemes include multiple competencies to ensure fair assessment, and internal tests and assignments are designed with both COs and Bloom's Taxonomy in mind.

The focus throughout the valuation practices is on assessing COs. The faculty members create internal question papers, which are then reviewed by department heads and the examination committee. The respective departments evaluate the overall attainment level of all COs for each course using a predetermined procedure. The attainment of COs and POs is measured using the course file, the results, and CO-PO mapping sheets.

Indirect attainments are measured through degree percentages, placement rates, higher progression rates, and awards received by the students.

Attainment of Programme Outcomes (POs) is calculated as:

To calculate the attainment of Program Outcomes (POs), the respective department evaluates the overall attainment of COs and POs. based on student performance, they are categorized into three levels: Low, Medium, and High. The target marks for all COs are the same, and the percentage of students exceeding the target marks determines the attainment level. For example, if 20% to 39% of students exceed the target marks, the overall attainment level of the COs is considered Level-1 (Low level). If 40% to 59% of students exceed the target marks, the overall attainment level of the COs is Level-2 (Medium level). If more than 60% of students exceed the target marks, the overall attainment level of the COs is Level-3 (High level).

Observations and analysis are conducted based on the assessments and indicated levels of attainment. This analysis enables continuous improvement in teaching-learning methods, assessment techniques, and the required teaching resources.

The attainment of Program Outcomes (POs) is evaluated by considering the attainment of COs and the overall performance of students in continuous internal evaluations. Feedback on teaching-learning and evaluation also contributes to the evaluation process.

Since the 2021-22 academic year, the college has taken responsibility for evaluating the attainment of Program Outcomes (POs) and Course Outcomes (COs).
